

Marching for Babies Hard Logic Puzzle

Using the clues provided, mark the information on the graph. Indicate a correct answer with a plus sign or check mark in the appropriate row or column. The remainder of that row or column can be marked with a minus sign to indicate that those answers are incorrect. Focus on solving each category clue by clue. When all other options are filled in, the remaining blank is the correct answer. Good luck!

It's January 22nd in Washington, D.C. and the buses are loading up with students ready to go home after participating in the largest peaceful protest against abortion. Help Carlos, Stephanie, Gina, Fred, and Daniel find their correct buses!

- Gina traveled from nearby Pennsylvania to get to Washington D.C..
- The girl wearing the yellow T-shirt is from Illinois.
- Carlos loved carrying his sign to show the truth about what happens during an abortion.
- Fred did not learn a chant with his group.
- The group wearing red T-shirts traveled all the way from Colorado.
- The group from Florida always eats at a sandwich shop.
- Daniel loves babies.
- The group from Colorado always stops to eat at a rest area on the way home.
- The boy from Maine spilled ketchup on his new pro-life t-shirt at the fast food restaurant.
- Carlos is from a warm state. DC in January is just a bit cold for southerners!
- The group from Illinois always goes to the Old Post Office for dinner before heading home.
- The group from Maine ate at a fast food restaurant.
- Gina's group packed their meals.
- The group from Pennsylvania picked green for its T-shirt color.
- Stephanie chanted about the law that was passed on January 22, 1973, and allowed abortion in the United States.
- The boy from Maine carried signs about life being a right, not a choice.
